COLD WINDS AT AQUEDUCT.

A CHANGE IN THE STARTING-MACHINE.

SOME OF THE BOOKMAKERS ARE NOW DOWN-CAST.

Racing at Aqueduct yesterday forcibly recalled the old days at Guttenburg, when the grandstand was incased in glass and huge stoves kept the blood of the spectators in circulation. The attendance was not nearly as large as on Tuesday. The racing was all that could be expected, considering the quality of the horses engaged. Caoutchouc ran like good filly and won with a lot to spare. She is likely to improve on her present form and to be a factor in the two-year-old stakes,

Several bookmakers have retired from the ring on Several bookmands were tested from the ring on account of heavy losses, as all the winners, even the long shots, were heavily backed on Tuesday, while others were wholly neglected in the betting, while others were wholly neglected in the betting. A new starting-machine will be tried to-day, as the new used since the meeting began is unsatisfactory. Here are the summaries:

ON THE GOLF LINKS.

Mrs. Charles J. Fisk has presented a cup to the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of Plainfield, to be competed for on each Saturday afternoon in May, June, September and October. The conditions under which it is offered exclude all but active members from the competition, which is to be at eighteen holes, handleap, medial play. The point eystem will govern; that is, the best not score on each tournament day will count three points, the second best two points, and the third best one point. The player having the greatest number of points to his credit on October 23 is to become the owner of the prize. Energies should be made on or before May 5, to W. T. Kaufman, chairman of the Golf Committee.

Active preparations are under way at the Baltusrol Golf Club for the hig open tournament which is to begin there on May 12. Louis Keller. the club secretary, expects to send out the formal announcement of conditions within a few days. The tournament will be played over the short course, measuring 5,121 yards, as the long 6,660-yard course will not be opened until August. The last con-test there, on Washington's Buthday, was an in-vitation affair, but this will be open to all players in the United States Golf Association.

In addition to the team match with Yale on Saturday, the St. Andrews golfers will conclude a handicap bogie tournament for the April Cup. These competitions hereafter will begin on the first eay and close on the last day of each month from May until October. A prize will be awarded at the end of every month to the player who shall defeat hogic by the great at number of holes, or in the event of bogic being unbeaten to the one who shall be defeated by the least number of holes.

The Oakland Golf Club, of Bayside, Long Island, will open its season on Saturday with a team match between the bachelors and benedicts. Waiter J. Travis will captain the benedicts. Another Saturday announcement is that the Marine and Field Club will hold an eighteen-hole handleap for the Tarbell Cup.

This is the third season of the Saratoga Golf Club, and the arrangements made for the game there will compare favorably with those at other The grounds are on well-known summer resorts. Churchest, and comprise a tract of over fifty acres of well-grassed furf. Pipes are laid to all the putting greens, which insures an abundance of water at all times. Several new bunkers are to be built, and the course arranged so that each hole must be approached over a sporty hazard.

Charles Adams and Duncan Edwards have presented a cup to the Dyker Meadow Golf Club for a mixed four-some on May 3. Edward W. Jewett has also offered a cup for a bogie competition on May 7.

The members of the class of '79, Princeton, will hold a tournament at Baltusrol on Saturday.

There are already thirteen entries, and some interesting play is promised.

W. M. McCawley has got together a team from the Merion Cricket Club, of Philadelphia, to enter the interstate golf tournament at the Allegheny Country Club, on June 17. The team is composed of G. D. Bradford, Charles S. Farnum, Herbert M. Forrest, Rodman E. Griscom, J. D. Winsor, jr., and W. M. McCawley.

Arthur Berry, secretary of the Morris County Golf Club, sends out the announcement that the club's links will be opened for the season next Saturday. Owing to alterations now going on, temporary greens are to be used for the present.

THE STANDARD BANK TO LIQUIDATE.

PETITION OF TRUST COMPANIES THE

The Standard National Bank whose offices have been at Twenty-third-st and Madison-ave. has gone into voluntary liquidation, pursuant to a vote of the stockholders of the bank. The affairs of the bank will be liquidated by the Produce Exchange with an arrangement made by the trust company for that end. All liabilities of the bank to its depositors will be settled in full by payment Exchange Trust Company.

The primary consideration which led the stock-holders of the Standard Bank to direct a voluntary liquidation of its affairs is the fact that the bank was started with a capital which was comparatively reseful operations of a National bank, in view of the restrictions thrown about such a bank and governing its banking operations, and in view of the apparent tendency of the present time to increase considerably the capital of National banks. IN THE CYCLING WORLD.

Cyclists certainly have a real grievance against weather. The atmospheric conditions have been such lately that really enjoyable cycling has been out of the question. The weather has been a severe drawback to riders, dealers and makers alike. There have been few really enjoyable days for the sport in the last three weeks. It rained on the last two Sundays, and when it was not raining the air was cold and raw and the winds, as a gen eral thing, keen and blustery. One class of people who notice the conditions most are the roadhousewho notice the conditions most are the roadhouse-keepers, many of whom fear they will go into bankruptcy unless May ushers in a finer assortment of weather. The deserted roadhouses along the Cycle Path in Brooklyn present a different aspect to what they did this time last year. Those who made the trip down the path to Coney Island yesterday found few cyclists on the road, and few of the hardy ones who were out made the trip to the island. They knew that they would have a hard wind to high against on their way home, and the majority turned back at Twenty-second-ave, or at Howe's old place. Those who made the trip down Fort Hamilton. Eighteenth or Twenty-second aves had a hard time of it getting back, as the wind was almost in their faces. Fewer cyclists each succeeding day have been seen on the Boulevard and Riverside Drive recently, but with more seasonable weather they will be out in larger numbers than ever.

President Clausen of the Park Board has at last given his consent to the building of a cycle path through Battery Park, but he says the city at present cannot afford to build it. The chances are that the New-York Consulate will see to it that the path is built in short order. The Consulate already has the promise of sufficient cinders to make the path. The stone crossings must also be cut to the

The appended communication, numerously signed, has been sent to Augustus W. Peters, the president of the Borough of Manhattan: "The undersigned citizens of this city beg to call your attention to the following facts: Mount Morris Square, bounded by One-hundred-and-twentieth and One-hundredand-twenty-fourth sts. and Madison and Mount Morris aves, attracts large numbers of people to its confines. The traffic on the highways in the streets surrounding it is great, and as the upper part of me city becomes more thickly populated, will increase. Necessatily every vehicle entering into any of the streets surrounding the Park must turn a corner; the same to leave it. The corners on all streets and avenues surrounding the borders of the Park are sharp, excepting the southeasterly corner of One-hundred-and-twentieth-st. and Fifthwhich is rounded. Those which are sharp show for themselves by the abrasion of the curb hat this is an impractical construction in turning corners. The teams must and do encroach on space properly belonging to traffic coming in the opposite direction. For these reasons and because of the manifest improvement in the greater safety of the users of the highways, the undersigned petition that all corners facing the Mount Morris Square he made to conform in shape to the southeasterly corner of One-hundred-and-twentieth-st, and Pifth-ave."

When the Miller bleycle lamp first became popular last year it was thought to be perfect, year's lamp, the "Miller A-1," is ahead of it in many point and the bicycling fraternity are won-dering if the limit of improvements is reached. It can't jar out, it has perfect vent to keep it from smoking, is supplied with three lenses, which make the light clear and powerful and at the same time protect all polished parts from smoke or oil.

McIlwaine and W. S. Pollock. It is altogether uncertain what decision the Tariff Association will arrive at to-day. It may vote to restrict the scope of the organization by throwing off the rates everywhere except in the "congested district," it may decide to add new rates, or it may reverse its action of yesterday and disband altogether. A good many of the underwriters feel that the association has outlived its usefulness.

the work that there may be for them to do before long.

One of the most interested friends of the Food Exhibition now in progress at the Grand Central Palace is Nicola Tesla. After visiting it yesterday morning he spoke enthusiastically, saying: "A visit to it should lengthen a man's life a year. This is the first time that an exhibit of this kind has been organized in the United States on such a scale, and it deserves much attention. It should be a great source of education in many ways. In the hospital exhibits there are a number of modern appliances of which the public has no knowledge."

When seen at his laboratory, in East Houstonst, yesterday atternoon Mr. Tesla was questioned about his rumored new inventions. He was exceedingly reticent upon the subject, but finally consented to say: "I am perfectling some novel devices, which I hope to have ready in a short time. I think they will have a profound influence. Yet I am not getting them up in any warlike spirit, but rather to insure peace."

HER FORMER LAWYER, W. H. STAYTON, TRIES TO COLLECT HIS FEES THROUGH THE COURTS. Mrs. Hetty Green appeared before Justice Gilder alcove in the Supreme Court yesterday as defendant in a suit brought by William H. Stayton to recover $50,000 for legal services. His counsel said hat Mr. Stayton had transacted Mrs. Green's legal business for nearly six years without receiving any compensation. Mrs. Green, who was accompanied by her present lawyer, Wheeler H. Peckham, denied that she owed Mr. Stayton a cent.

The trial of the suit was adjourned until next week, at the request of Mrs. Green's counsel.

ADDRESS TO VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

THE STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE PREPARES FOR CONGRESS DISTRICT CONVENTIONS.

Petersburg, Va., April 27 (Special).-The State Executive Committee of the Republican party Virginia has issued an address to the Republican voters of the State, which says that they have adopted resolutions, looking to the necessary action under the party plan of organ-ization for the holding of Congress conventions for the nomination of Republican candidates for Congress and the election of members of the Republican State Committee.

The committee congratulates the Republican voters of the State of Virginia upon the fact that the State Republican convention held at Staunton on April 23, 1896, adopted a plan of organization under which all power within the Republican party now ascends from the people to the heads of the party organization instead of going from those clothed in authority by the people down to the body of the Republican voters of the State. The address says that under this plan of organzation the time has now been reached not only for the necessary steps looking to the campaign or the election of Congressmen from the different districts of the State, but also to call upon the people to select their representatives in the Republican State Committee.

The address further says that under the plan of organization it is, in the opinion of the mittee, the duty of each Congress district com mittee to call district conventions in the respective districts prior to every Congress convention, and that the said district committee have no choice or discretion in the matter, or any power or authorbe held, or whether or not such conventions shall be held, or whether or not candidates for Congress shall be put in the field in the several districts or in any or either of them, that discretion being vested solely in the Congress district conventions called by said district committees.

It is earnestly urged that all Republicans will interest themselves in the coming campaign, to the end that not only the best material may be selected for Congress candidates, but also that a full expression of the popular will may be obtained in the selection of members of the State organization.

The address concludes: "It is Moped that all Republicans will now earnestly unite and harmoniously labor in the field to which they are called by this address." The address is signed by Park Agnew, chairman; J. A. Walker, James D. Brady, S. Brown Allen and Sitth Bolling.
